

Molecular Cell Biology and Neuroscience Program – Thesis Defense Checklist

- Go here for Graduation Information including Graduation Application Deadlines
- Apply to graduate in Self-Service Banner. Rowan University confers degrees at the end of the Fall (December 30), Winter (January 30), Spring (May 30), and Summer (August 30) terms.
- Submit your final written dissertation draft (see the Student Handbook for formatting details) to your Thesis Advisory Committee (TAC). All TAC members must approve it, using this form, before you can set a defense date.
- Once approved, email a pdf of your approved dissertation, the date (at least 3 weeks after TAC approval), and time of the defense to the GSBS Office group email address: gsbs-stratford@rowan.edu.

The GSBS office will:

1. Make the dissertation available to the entire faculty prior to the defense date.
2. Book SC-290 and publicly announce the defense date and time.
3. Review formatting of the written thesis.

On defense day, your TAC will complete an online evaluation after your defense to determine if you have passed. You will be notified in a timely matter regarding the outcome of your defense. If dissertation revisions are necessary, the chair of your TAC will contact you with instructions. Once the GSBS Office receives a fully executed Thesis Defense Vote Report, we will notify you to:

- Submit a pdf of your final approved dissertation to the GSBS Office (gsbs-stratford@rowan.edu)
- Submit 5 copies of the approved final dissertation on 24lb paper to the GSBS Office.

Students can expect the bound copies to be available to them 1 – 2 month(s) after submission.

- Additionally, please fill out the Alumni Registration Form and complete the Survey of Earned Doctorates (doctoral students only), and enroll in LinkedIn, a professional networking site at <https://www.linkedin.com>.

Doctoral students must successfully defend before Commencement to attend the Commencement Ceremony in May. Suggested sample timeline for May defense and walking at the ceremony:
